

Breastfeeding Peer Counselor Training

August 5-9, 2019 (9AM-5PM)

Please join instructors Felisha Floyd, CLC, IBCLC and Camie Jae Goldhammer, MSW, LICSW, IBCLC for a 5-day, 45-hour peer counselor training.

open arms
PERINATAL SERVICES

Presents:

A free, foundational course in lactation. Gain the skills needed to begin serving your community. In this course, we will cover:

Chest/Breastfeeding in Communities of Color
Position and Latch
Substances/Medications and Milk
Historical Trauma and Unresolved Greif
Alternative Feeding Methods
Perinatal Mood Disorders
How Milk is Made, and so much more!!!

Priority communities for participation: African American, Native American/Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian, Pacific Islander and Rural.

Read trainer bios on reverse.

Limited spots available. Please fill out the registration application form:

Click here! bit.ly/2JFYelX

Contact Camie Goldhammer with questions: camie@camiegoldhammer.com

Breastfeeding Peer Counselor Trainers:

Felisha Floyd, author, speaker, trainer, and consultant, is an award-winning hospital-based IBCLC celebrated for her work in the health/racial equity and food justice fields. She is the owner of Beyond Breastfeeding and the founder of Our Brown Baby. She serves as the President of the National Association of Professional and Peer Lactation Supporters of Color (NAPPLSC) and is an active member of the CSI/Race Forward First Food Racial Equity Cohort. Her career as a peer counselor and breastfeeding coordinator for WIC led to her work as a consultant with Boston Medical College's notable program, Communities and Hospitals Advancing Maternity Practices program (CHAMPS). She still consults for WIC within the WIC Loving Support Program. She is well known as the social media guru who founded Blactivist, an online breastfeeding cultural support group with a continually growing audience of more than 40,000. Felisha's passion for advocacy fuels her desire to serve in multiple roles such as the advisor/group member of the World Breastfeeding Trends Initiative (WBTI), the Education Director for Mom2Mom Global, the Immediate Past Advocacy Chair for Florida State Breastfeeding Coalition, and the Board of Directors for United States Breastfeeding Committee. Her championing of families is additionally informed by her important roles as an Air Force active duty military spouse and proud mom of three breastfed children.

Camie Jae Goldhammer, MSW, LICSW, IBCLC, (Sisseton-Wahpeton) is a Clinical Social Worker and Lactation Consultant. Camie received her Master of Social Work degree from the University of Washington in 2006, specializing in Maternal Mood Disorders and the effects of complex/Intergenerational trauma on attachment, bonding and the parenting practices of Native families. She has served as a therapist with the Snoqualmie Tribe's Behavioral Health Program, been a WIC/Maternity Support Services social worker, clinical supervisor with the Ina Maka home visiting program which serves pregnant and parenting women and their families in Washington's urban-Indian community. Camie is the founder and chair of the Native American Breastfeeding Coalition of Washington. She is also a founding mother and President Elect of the National Association of Professional and Peer Lactation Supporters of Color. In 2013, she became Washington state's first Native American IBCLC. Camie is a consultant with Center for Health Equity, Education and Research CHAMPS program. She is a member of the Center for Social Inclusion's First Food Racial Equity Cohort. Recently, she worked as a Campaign Director with MomsRising working to bring paid family and medical leave to Washington State which was signed into law in July 2017. She is now a member of the MomsRising breastfeeding team. In fall 2017, Camie launched the Indigenous Breastfeeding Counselor Certification (IBC) which is a 45-hour foundational lactation counselor program for those that identify as Native/Indigenous/First Nations. Camie is also the Program Manager of DayBreak Star Doulas – an Indigenous Doula Program serving families in King County. She is a National leader on topics of racial equity and first food justice.

Contact Camie Goldhammer with questions: camie@camiegoldhammer.com